“Surgical Transitional Care: Improving Results After Complex Abdominal Surgery”

Tuesday, March 13, 2018
12:00–1:00 p.m.
HSLC 1248

Sharon Weber, MD, specializes in benign and malignant disorders of the liver, pancreas and bile duct, in addition to gastric cancer, melanoma, and sarcoma. She is a frequent invited speaker and moderator at many national meetings and serves on the executive committee of four national associations. Dr. Weber is the national director for the NSQIP-Oncology Collaborative. Her research interests include mixed methods evaluation of risk factors for readmission using a systems engineering approach with a focus on the transition of care and outcomes research evaluating preoperative predictors of postoperative complications.

This is an interprofessional session that targets learners across multiple disciplines that serve older persons, including: physicians, nurses, social workers, pharmacists, psychologists, and rehabilitation therapists. All faculty, staff, and trainees are invited and encouraged to attend.
